G. O. P. Senators Agree on $100,000,000 in New Taxes

AGREEMENT IS TENTATIVELY REACHED AT CAUCUS BEFORE THE WEEKEND ADJOURNMENT

Harrisburg, Nov. 29—(P)—The Republican-controlled senate set today to cut appropriations in order to bring the commonwealth's budget in line with a $100,000,000 tax program.

The goal of $47,000,000 in appropriation reductions was fixed by GOP senators tentatively agreed on $100 million in new taxes, including the speeded up collection of $61 million in corporate net income taxes in the present two-year fiscal period.

Sen. James S. Berger (R-Potter), GOP caucus chairman, was optimistic about the agreement reached at a GOP caucus yesterday. "It looks like the log jam is broken," he said. "We should have fiscal problems solved shortly."

The tax agreement was tentatively reached at a GOP caucus yesterday shortly before the senate went home until next Monday. The house, which already has passed all portions of the tax program, is in recess until Dec. 10.

2-Point Contract Extended Six More Steel Companies

Pittsburgh, Nov. 29—(P)—Philip Murray's CIO United Steelworkers handed their 22-point contract demand to six more steel companies today as negotiations with U. S. Steel entered the third day.

Among the half dozen companies getting a first glimpse of the demands, which Murray says include a substantial wage increase, are Bethlehem Steel Corp., Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation and Republic Steel Corporation.

The demands were given to U. S. Steel representatives Tuesday by one of Murray's top aides. The demands to U. S. Steel Company of America.

Polish Family Arriving in Sugar Grove Friday to Make Their Home in Future

A Polish family of seven who preferred to leave all their possessions in Communist-dominated Poland and be free rather than live under Communist rule will dock in New York today on the transport "General Stewart" and will arrive in Sugar Grove tomorrow to make their future home.

The family is being brought to Sugar Grove under the sponsorship of R. L. Burgett of Sugar Grove, who has a job for the father at a farm.

The Kutschke family, independent farmers for many generations, came to America in 1946 to escape Communist persecution in Poland and to arrive in New York today. They are immigrating to the United States under the Displaced Persons Act.

Willy Kutschke, who is 45 years old, will be accompanied by his wife, Mathilde, and their five sons: Albert, 17, Hubert, 15, Henryk, 13, Baldur, 11, and Edward, 9. They came on their trip to freedom in an airplane, finally arriving in Sugar Grove where they were placed in a rooming house. Seventy persons were crowded in a room so small that only the children could lie down; the rest had to remain standing.

Their meal consisted of watery soup. Finally, after 10 days, they landed a refugee train which took them to Holstein, West Germany, where Willy found work as a farm hand and construction laborer. At such time as arrangements were made to transport the Kutschke family to America.

"We wish to express our deepest gratitude to America and its wonderful people," said Willy before boarding the "General Stewart" in Bremerhaven. "To be able to farm again is almost too good to believe."

The Displaced Persons Commission had made arrangements in New York today to bring the Kutschke family to Warren county tomorrow.

HOLIDAY DISPLAY PROJECT—Art and workshop students at Beaty Junior High School are lending an assist to the Junior Chamber of Commerce in preparation of one of its community Christmas displays. Plans were drawn in the art classes, construction is going forward in working classes, and the display will soon be ready for erection on the lawn of Beaty school. When the Times-Mirror photographer visited Herbert Nichols' ninth grade class this morning, he found the following ninth grade pupils at work: John Bohren, John Eberly, Ronald Fitzgerald, Neil Follett, James Graziano, Ted Huber, Bob Jamieson, Walter Johnson, Bill Long, David Merenick, Alvin Mohnkern, Harold Petersen, Bill Porter, Bob Reynolds, Gail Schaefer, Ronald Shaw, Jay Shuholm, Ronald Viola, Stanley Warren, Gene Wilson, Thomas Wineriter and David Woods.

Caudle Admits Receiving $5,000 From Agent in Charge of Tax Fraud Inquiry

Washington, Nov. 29—(P)—Former Assistant Attorney General T. Lamar Caudle acknowledged today he received $5,000 in 1950 from an investigator working for two New York taxpayers subsequently convicted of tax fraud.

Caudle said the $5,000 was a commission paid him for arranging the sale of an airplane to the tax investigator, and that the transaction was approved by Attorney General McGrath.

Caudle was on the witness stand for the fourth day before a house ways and means subcommittee investigating tax fraud prosecutions in the Justice Department.

Conflicting Stories About the Death Of Villanova Star

Philadelphia, Nov. 29—(P)—Nick Liotta, 22-year-old Villanova College football co-captain, was found dead in a dormitory basement yesterday. Police said death was by hanging. The coroner's office ascribed it to natural causes.

Radiator township police said they found Liotta's body under a strip of piping, a coil of telephone wire twisted around his neck. The wire, police said in their official report, had been looped over a pipe.

Joseph Tercha, Delaware county coroner, said Dr. John Turner of Bryn Mawr informed him that Liotta died of natural causes, apparently of a heart attack. He added that no autopsy is planned.

The college, operated by the Roman Catholic Order of St. Augustine, announced only that Liotta was dead and that the cause of death was unknown. Beyond that, most officials held to steadfast silence. Teammates of the popular Liotta, who was a candidate for All-American honors as a guard, were reported to be under strict orders from college authorities to say nothing. ### Grateful Little Mutt Is Recovering From Shock After Two Dogs Try to Drown Him

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 29—(P)—A grateful little dog was recovering today from shock and bites inflicted by two big dogs who tried to drown him.

A policeman termed the incident "attempted murder." An agent of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals called it "the most unusual story I've ever heard."

Patrolman William R. Carleton of the police department of suburban Tonawanda told how he rescued the mongrel from the icy waters of a creek:

"One dog had the little guy by the head or the ear and the other grabbed him by the hind leg and they flipped him into the creek."

"Then they'd sit there and wait until the little one crawled back upon the bank, and the two big ones would grab him again and toss him back into the water."

"It's hard to believe, but they were actually trying to kill the little mutt."

One of the would-be murderers ran away and Carleton ran to the creek bank.

"The other one just sat there waiting for the little dog to crawl on the bank. I chased him away," Carleton said he didn't try to apprehend the would-be killers. He just helped the little dog from the icy waters, got him wrapped in blankets, and accepted a grateful lick of the hand bestowed by the cold, disillusioned pooch.

"About one more dunk and it would have been the end of the little guy," the patrolman said.

William C. Sullivan, SPAC superintendent, said the breeds of the attackers were not determined. He said the victim suffered from shock and was badly chewed, but that he would be all right.

A. P. Writer Tells Story Of Directive

(Editor's note: What was the real origin of the order passed along to front line commanders in Korea yesterday that led to the strange quiet along the 145 miles of frozen battlefield?)

John Randolph, AP war correspondent, yesterday reported that the order came from the "highest sources, possibly from the White House itself" and his report was passed by censorship. Almost as soon as the Randolph dispatch appeared in print, Joseph Short, White House press secretary, called a sudden press conference at Key West, and said:

"My attention has been called to the following Associated Press dispatch from Seoul: 'Orders from the highest sources, possibly from the White House itself, brought the ground fighting to a complete, if temporary halt, Wednesday.' John Randolph, Associated Press correspondent, reported through censorship today."

Then Short declared "that the statement by the Associated Press is not true."

In the accompanying dispatch, Randolph reports on the background situation leading to his original story and describes, from a frontline vantage point, the speculation as to the possible sources and details on the ground-fighting directive).

"Cease Fire Order" Without Foundation

Washington, Nov. 29—(P)—Gen. Matthew Ridgway, asked for "clarification" of the stop-shooting situation in Korea yesterday, advised the Pentagon today only that reports of a "cease fire order" are without foundation.

A Defense Department spokesman said there was little else in Ridgway's message except the statement that the press has been so informed, and a quotation of the announcement from Ridgway's headquarters last night that "no such order" had been issued.

The spokesman was asked if Ridgway had mentioned the statement today by Gen. James Van Fleet, 8th Army commander, that a directive he issued had been "misinterpreted" by troops. The spokesman said Ridgway's brief reply made no reference to that.

GOP Senate Floor Leader Succumbs

Washington, Nov. 29—(P)—Senator Kenneth S. Wherry of Nebraska, Republican floor leader of the senate, died at 12:45 p. m. (EST) today at George Washington Hospital. He was 58.

Doctors in attendance said the senator died of pneumonia.

Wherry had been ill for weeks. Some of those close to him said he was suffering from cancer.

Wherry underwent an operation last month for removal of a growth in his intestine. He had left the hospital after a normal period and was reported recuperating.

This morning, he was brought back to the hospital suffering fever and chills with respiratory complications.

THAILAND COUP

London, Nov. 29—(P)—The British foreign office said today it has heard reports of a bloodless coup in Thailand. It added that it had no official confirmation of the report.

NEW INSTRUCTIONS RECEIVED BY ARTILLERY BELIEVED NOT TO APPLY TO THE INFANTRY

Seoul, Korea, Nov. 29—(P)—Allied artillery opened up on the western front today after officers reported receiving new orders to "shoot to kill."

The front line report came shortly after Gen. James A. Van Fleet announced his Eighth Army command had issued "certain military instructions" which some troops may have interpreted as a cease-fire order.

He said any such "misinterpretation" would be corrected.

An official Eighth Army spokesman said the original—and still secret—directive remained "completely unchanged." Any changes showing up on the front, he said, were the result of clarifications ordered by General Van Fleet.

The spokesman's command apparently applied to the "shoot to kill" orders reported received by artillery officers of the Third Division. Artillerymen said apparently their new instructions did not apply to the infantry.

Red Negotiators Propose Immediate Withdrawal Plan

Munsan, Korea, Nov. 29—(P)—Communist negotiators today proposed immediate discussion of a plan for gradual withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea.

The Reds said a withdrawal by stages after an armistice is signed would take care of Allied fears that fighting will break out again after a truce goes into effect.

The Communists' first hint that they might settle for less than complete withdrawal of troops immediately came as the shooting all but ended along the 145-mile battle front. Both sides appeared to be waiting to see whether the negotiators at Panmunjom would be able to agree on an armistice before the cease-fire line agreement expires Dec. 27.

The armistice delegations are (Turn to Page Ten)

White House Cautions There Can Be No Cease Fire Until Armistice Is Signed

Key West, Fla., Nov. 29—(P)—President Truman kept in close contact with the Korean situation today but the White House cautioned the nation that "there can be no cease fire in Korea until an armistice agreement has been signed."

The Department of Defense transmitted latest developments to the president at this naval station retreat last night.

A spokesman for Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said in Tokyo that no order had been given to halt ground fighting in Korea.

Additional 28th Units in Germany

Bremerhaven, Germany, Nov. 29—(P)—The United States Army's oldest outfit has landed here to bolster General Dwight D. Eisenhower's European defense forces.

It was the Reconnaissance Company of Pennsylvania's 28th Division, which arrived yesterday aboard the transport General C. H. Mum, together with 2,000 other soldiers of the division's 109th Infantry Regiment.

The Reconnaissance dates its history to Benjamin Franklin's "Battalion of the Associates" and is officially described as the "oldest component of the U. S. Army."

Besides this unit and the Second Battalion of the 109th, the transport brought over also the 109th Regimental Headquarters Company, the Tank Company, the Medical Company and the Heavy Mortar Company of the same regiment.

The regiment is commanded by Col. H. D. McHugh, of Louisville, Ky.

The troops said their nine-day voyage from Norfolk, Va., was smooth and sunny.

Five Business Places in Youngsville Reported Burglarized During the Night

Five Youngsville business places were entered during the night, one of them twice, it was reported by Youngsville and state police this morning.

Youngsville Chief of Police Ed Chappel, while on rounds about three o'clock this morning, discovered that the service station and grocery store of Clair Hendrickson, located on West Main street, had been entered. Chappel called Mr. Hendrickson to check his stock and the store was re-locked.

Upon returning about four o'clock, Chief Chappel found that the store had been re-entered. A check this morning reveals that some groceries, cigarettes and candy are missing.

Meanwhile, upon opening for business this morning, four other establishments reported burglaries during the night. They were Wiggers Chevrolet, where an electric drill is missing; Arnold's Sinclair Service, where a quantity of small change was taken; Mariner Brothers Garage, where entry was gained through a rear window but nothing found missing; and attempted entry to Dale's Service Station in the front of Mariner Brothers. Thieves were not successful in their attempt to break into Dale's.

Officers are investigating this morning, and are of the opinion that the burglars are of local vintage.

Ismailia, Egypt, Nov. 29—(P)—New violence was reported here today in the wake of fighting which flared last night less than six hours after Egyptian authorities agreed to tighten their policing of the strife-torn Suez canal zone.

British military authorities were investigating three bomb blasts and intermittent gunfire heard on the outskirts of Ismailia during the night.

Lester Cook, the buyer, said the animal would be slaughtered for Dave's market of Millbrae, N. J.

Announcements Of Scholarships Is Made by Principal

Boys who are high school sophomores, juniors, seniors, or graduates in the upper ten per cent of their class, not older than 16½ years by September 15, 1952, are eligible to compete for scholarships in four liberal arts colleges, the University of Chicago, the University of Wisconsin, Columbia University, and Yale University.

Floyd W. Bathurst, principal of Warren High School, states that any boys in the local school interested should consult him at once and make formal application before December 7, 1951, for the preliminary examination.

These scholarships, paying as high as $1,500 a year for two years, have been made available by a grant from the Fund for the Advancement of Education in view of the uncertainties facing young men because of the prospect that their education will be interrupted by military service. The experiment was started last year by the four universities "to permit young men of promise to progress in a program of liberal education before assuming their adult responsibilities in the life of the nation."

Scholarships will be awarded on the basis of interest in a two-year program of liberal education in the humanities, the natural sciences, and the social sciences; the quality of the high school record; recommendations; performance in examinations administered; and indications of personal promise.

Last year 215 young men from schools in 52 states were awarded and accepted scholarships in the competition for 1951-52.

Sylvania Directors Declare a Dividend

New York—Directors of Sylvania Electric Products Inc., at a meeting November 28 declared a dividend of 50 cents per share on the Company's common stock, payable December 20, 1951, to stockholders of record at the close of business on December 10, 1951.

This action brings the total common dividends for the year to $2.00 per share, the rate maintained since the final quarter of 1950. For the three years prior to the 1950 last quarter, dividends were paid at the annual rate of $1.40 per share.

The Board also declared dividends on Sylvania's two preferred stock issues. The regular quarterly dividend of $1.00 per share was declared on the $4.00 preferred stock, and an initial dividend of 42.8 cents per share was declared on the new $4.40 preferred stock, representing payment for the period from November 28, 1951, the date of issuance, to December 31, 1951.

Dividends on both preferred issues are payable January 2, 1952, to holders of record at the close of business December 19, 1951.

LET'S NOT DESCEND TO REDS' LEVEL

What can anyone say about the Eighth Army's report that the Chinese Reds have slain thousands of U. S. prisoners of war in the past year?

It is a shock, but it is no surprise. We have long since learned that Communists the world over are not hampered by ordinary standards of behavior in peace or war. The West's notions of "morality" are to the Reds evidence of foolish weakness. In their political and military lexicon, anything goes. The end justifies the means.

But there is one thing we must guard against. Neither atrocity nor intemperate language nor bold-faced deceit at the council table must tempt us to answer the Communists in kind.

The way to deal with the Reds is not to go berserk with our guns, or to shout threat and epithet in the council hall. We can outface them better if we offer them cold, controlled anger and situations of power which thoroughly frustrate their ruthless intent and compel them to accept realities favorable to us.

AN IDEAL CHOICE

George F. Kennan, brilliant State Department planner and expert on the Soviet Union, is slated to go to Moscow as our next ambassador. No choice could be more logical.

Kennan more than any other American official with the possible exception of Charles E. Bohlen, State Department counsellor, has troubled to learn something of the Russian mind. He attempts to frame policy that he deems wise not alone from American and Western viewpoint, but from the viewpoint of a sound future Russia. He knows the forces at work in and out of the Kremlin, can gauge reaction carefully in the Soviet Union, and avoid pitfalls that trap the gullible and uninformed.

Reports are that Kennan will not take up his new duties until May. We must hope that in the meantime no congressman with overactive glands decides that Kennan's vast knowledge of Russia proves he is therefore necessarily sympathetic to the Communist cause. For he is one of the stoutest adversaries Moscow has.

Look
to our wire costs!

Ten years ago, a coil of wire like this cost us $7.65.

Today the price is up to $18.80—more than twice as much—and we're using more than ever before!

Our dollar keeps buying less and less of everything we use... wire, cable, poles, trucks, switchboards and a thousand other items. Yet in spite of rising prices, we must buy more and more of all these items as we expand our equipment and facilities to meet the ever-growing demand for telephone service, both civilian and military.

Even so, we've been able to provide more and better telephone service that continues to increase in value.

Telephone service could cost more than it does and still, in comparison with other things you buy, be a big, big bargain.

Here And There

Howard Lauffenburger receives credit for an assist today having passed on to us a copy of a letter written by a well known Pittsburgh sportsman to his "boss" on the approach of the deer season. We are certain it will be read with interest by deer hunters generally, and especially by any who may be anticipating difficulty in getting permission to take time off for a trip into the big woods:

November 13, 1950
Buffalo, New York
Intelligent Use of Natural Resources

Mr. J. J. McNally
Regional Manager
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

Dear Jack:

On Sunday thousands of grumpy determined hunters (too old and too fat) will start the hazardous exhausting trek into the wild, dangerous woods of Pennsylvania (in expensive comfortable cars over improved highways) for the opening of the big game season the next day. The group, of which I hope to be one, will head for the primitive camp (equipped with electric lights, stoves, running water, comfortable bunks, down-filled sleeping bags, excellent food of considerable variety and sufficient quantity for double the number of men) and after a fatiguing journey of twenty miles will unload their gear and provision at the door of the camp (which requires a carry of some twenty-five feet). They will sweep out the camp, store provisions, arrange sleeping bunks, hang up extra clothing, rack up guns and ammunition (exhausting chores which take about an hour) and serve refreshments (and lie about their prowess and success on previous expeditions).

They will then prepare the dinner (most of the first meal having been prepared by their wives and requires merely warming), wash the dishes (not a completely first class job), serve more refreshments, organize card games, only to be constantly interrupted by the strategy to be employed the next day in an attempt to outwit the wily deer. (A feat often beyond the mental capacity of the assembled hunters.)

In the early hours before dawn the next day, they will leap from their comfortable bunks (not too refreshed due to refreshments the night before and a not too sound sleep because of excitement, a terrific cadence of loud noises coming from the wheezy throats of the closely packed together hunters and the frequent excursions out into the cold winter snow with an electric flashlight) and feverishly start breakfast (eggs, bacon, grid-dle cakes, lots of hot coffee, butter and cream.)

They will leave the dishes for future washing, dress carefully (in the finest, warmest boots and clothing obtainable, check again for plenty of matches, compass, smokes, ropes for dragging the deer, hunting licenses, knife, toilet paper, and plenty of ammunition.) They will check the time and step briskly through the snow into the woods (abounding in the terrifying wild life of this region—chipmunks, birds, rabbits, squirrels, a few deer, and an occasional frightened bear) and for a quarter of an hour, they will follow the strategy agreed upon the night before after which each will follow the dictates of his hunches for the rest of the day. Almost at once they hear shots coming from all over and wonder if there could possibly be that many deer. (Hunters are trying out their guns, shooting at crows, bottles, trees, chipmunks, other hunters, but very few deer.)

They get tired soon and begin to look for a likely place (stand by a tree or sit on a stump or a rock) and stroll cautiously about. They admire the woods and get a real thrill just being there. (They get cold, numb fingers, feet like ice, glasses get cloudy—most of them have to wear them.) They glory in their rides, which are the finest obtainable and are equipped with the finest sights and capable of killing a deer a mile away (90 per cent are shot within 100 yards either standing or walking slowly.)

Most of them will not get a shot, much less a deer, and will determine not to make the trip again, but by the time next season rolls around they will be chomping at the bit and crazy to do it all over again. (Please, boss, may I go?)

Best regards,
A. C.

This 'n That: Down at Oil City Council is considering the purchase of a property in Elm street for conversion into a parking lot. . . . Paul Reynolds, of Torpedo, R. D. 1, interviewed by "Chuck" Sweeney of the Corry Journal, at Norfolk, Va., before boarding the USNS Gen. Stuart Heintzelman for shipment overseas to Bremerhaven, was quoted as saying, "I'm single, so I don't mind going; this will be something new, I guess; I have always wanted to see the country over there." . . . Several scholastic teams in the area open their basketball seasons Friday evening. . . . Power on the 12,000-volt Penelac line between Columbus and Bear Lake was severed Monday night when a wire fell to the ground, the flashes from burning wire being first spotted by Wario Morris in front of the Roy Brant home. . . . The Corry Elks' Male Chorus will take part in the memorial services which will be held at the New Castle B. P. O. Elks home Sunday evening at eight o'clock, when Grand Exalted Ruler Howard Davis will be the principal speaker. . . . Dr. Jack Utley, Erie psychiatrist, formerly on the staff of the Warren State Hospital, was the speaker last evening at the Junior High PTA in Corry, his subject being "Disciplining Children." . . . There was applause and "apple-sauce" at the Kiwanis Club Charter Night ceremonies at Youngsville the other evening when Mrs. Forest Rapp remarked to the group sitting around our end of the table (a sort of an invitation to get her name in the paper) "I made the applesauce they are serving here tonight," upon which the Rev. William Chamberlain, Kiwanian, interjected "That's a lot of applesauce!" . . . Reporting that this month he has picked up 54 deer killed by automobiles, Game Protector Norman L. Erickson, Emporium, makes the statement that there are so many deer being killed in Cameron county these days that they have become a public nuisance and a menace to travel.

Allegheny College Psychology Majors At Local Hospital

Four Allegheny College students who are majoring in psychology, Lois Behrend, Betty Hamman, William Forrester and James Bortorff, are on a field trip this week at Warren State Hospital.

The visit to Warren State Hospital is part of a research project involving use of a personality adaptability test which has been developed by Dr. Guy E. Buckingham, head of the department of psychology at Allegheny College. For some months, Eugene A. Cease, chief of psychological service and senior psychologist at the State Hospital, has been working independently but in conjunction with Dr. Buckingham. The project is now in the process of setting up norms at the Hospital to compare with normal patients. The tests are designed primarily for industrial use, to aid employers in screening most likely candidates so far as their emotional and physical life is concerned. A large amount of material is available at the local Hospital which is not obtainable elsewhere. Two students from Fordham University were recently assigned here for psychological research.

One of the Allegheny students is a Warren High school graduate, James Bortorff, son of Mrs. Marguerite Erickson, 619 Pennsylvania avenue, east.

W P L REPORTING

This short breathing-spell between Thanksgiving and Christmas is a good time to take a look at some of the new fiction. Two recent novels are concerned with actors, yet the plots are widely different. NIGHT AT THE VULCAN, by Ngaio Marsh, is a detective story in a theatrical setting. This is for the detective story fan, but also for anyone interested in authentic atmosphere and life in the theatre.

THE OLD RELIABLE, by P. G. Wodehouse, is a saga of new Hollywood and aging screen stars. It is humorous, of course, but it is also highly credible in its description of life on and off location.

THE CONSUL AT SUNSET, by Gerald Hanley, is a retelling of the last of the British Empire. Here, in a brilliantly written novel, is the story of four different reactions to the crumbling regime of the English in Africa.

REQUIEM FOR A NUN, by William Faulkner, is a retelling of his plot in Sanctuary. It is concerned with the trial of a nursemaid for the murder of her charge, but this does not convey the terrific spell woven by Mr. Faulkner in his successful use of experimental forms in his writing. His mastery of words is more important than the plot.

HOLY SINNER, by Thomas Mann, is important, of course, because it is by Thomas Mann. He has chosen a theme from a medieval legend, the story of Gregorius, son of a Flemish duke, the victim of a double incest, and eventually Pope. Mr. Mann was never a humorist so this is apparently to be read with serious intent. While its tastefulness can be questioned, the style is to be recommended for its sonorous phrasing.

A BREEZE AT MORNING, by Charles Morgan is a reminiscence by a man of an experience which helped to shape him as an adolescent. This is a fascinating study of people, penetrating, real yet gentle.

Mrs. Martha Houghwot of Russell, expects to spend the winter in Orlando, Fla., at 127 McKee street. She expected to go by plane leaving Jamestown Monday and arriving in Orlando at 6 p. m. same day.

RECTORY NUPTIALS—S/Sgt. and Mrs. James McNally, wed November 17 in the rectory of SS. Peter & Paul's in Jamestown, are pictured with their best man, Charles F. Regner, and maid of honor, Janet Marie Anderson. Sgt. McNally is stationed at the Westover, Mass., Air Force Base and the newlyweds will reside at 323 South street, Holyoke, Mass., following an eastern honeymoon.

Anna Marie Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albin Carlson, 806 Washington street, Jamestown, became the bride of S/Sgt. James McNally, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McNally, Russell, in a simple ceremony performed November 17 in the rectory of SS. Peter & Paul's church in Jamestown, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick F. Tobin reading the service in the presence of 25 guests.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white satin and net and carried a cascade of white carnations centered with a corsage of small yellow roses. Her gown was designed with fitted bodice scalloped at the waistline and with high illusion neckline, lace bertha, long sleeves, an overskirt of net and a long train. Her veil fell fingertip length from a crown of satin.

Her maid of honor, Janet Marie Anderson, wore gold-embossed moire, with a spray of tiny pink carnations in her hair to match her nosegay. Bridesmaids were Sonya Aronson, in chartreuse satin, and Maxine Newberry, in forest green satin. They carried nosegays of yellow carnations.

Charles F. Regner, Erie, was best man and ushers were Donald M. Anderson and Algot L. Eckstrom, Warren.

A luncheon followed at the Carolina Tea Room and the reception was held in the afternoon in the home of the bride's parents. Six-inch miniatures of the bridal party centered the foreground of the buffet table which held the three-tier wedding cake. Aides were Barbara Lewis and Mrs. Leslie Knott.

Out of town guests were from Warren, Russell, Erie, Ripley and Lakewood.

The bride has been employed in the West Third street Harvey & Carey Drug Store in Jamestown.

DERBY CIRCLE

Warren Players Offering Unusual Show In "The Man"

Local audiences will enjoy an unusual entertainment next Thursday and Friday evenings, December 6 and 7, when the Warren Players present "The Man" by Mel Dinelli, directed by Mrs. Lois Muir. It is a departure from the routine comedy or problem play which depend either upon exaggerated humor or upon everyday situations.

"The Man" is the story of a young man who comes to work for an older woman and his first job is polishing the floors in her house. During the day, other people come to the house to visit or to deliver packages. On the surface, nothing much happens; but, hidden by the ordinary, everyday events, a situation develops which is terrifying.

It would be unfair to reveal more of the plot than this. The play is based on a psychological situation which is like a picture slowly going out of focus. The tension builds up gradually but continuously and the actual outcome of the play is impossible to guess until the very last.

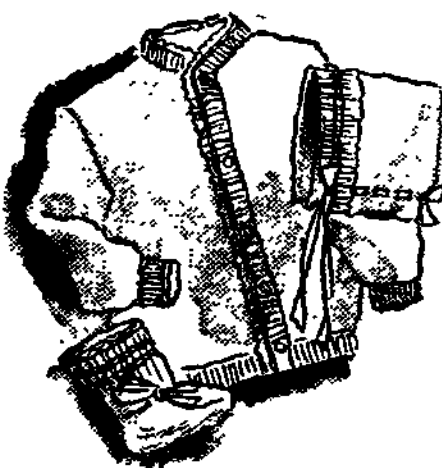

Those who have seen the play feel that it is more than different; it is terrific. It is not for the moonlight and roses type of playgoer nor for the slapstick comedy addict. For everyone who is tired of the same old stuff in plays, "The Man" will be a tonic, the kind that makes one's hair stand on end.

Don't miss "The Man"! Box office opens in the Woman's Club

Hanging of the Greens

Many legends have been recorded concerning the custom of lighting candles on Christmas Eve and the use of evergreens in decorating for special festive occasions, oft-told tales which provide the background for the more modern ceremony known as "The Hanging of the Greens" and featured each year in the pre-holiday program of the High School Girls' Club at the local YWCA. One story is that long ago in Austria there lived an old shoemaker whose cottage was located at the edge of the village. Although this humble man had little, his goodness of heart was such that each evening he placed a lighted candle in his window to welcome weary travelers who might be asking shelter. War came to the village, famine and hardships came to all; sons died in battle, animals starved for want of grain. Yet, always, the old shoemaker suffered less than others. The peasants decided it must be due to his welcoming candle and that night, the eve of Christmas, every house in the village had a burning candle.

When morning came, it was as though a miracle had happened. A soft mantle of snow covered the village, in the air was a feeling of peace and hope, and, just after daybreak, a messenger came with news of peace. "It was the candles," peasants whispered on every side. "They have guided the Christ Child to our doorsteps. We must never again fail to light candles on His birthday."

The use of evergreens dates back to pagan times, when the Druids carried branches into their houses in winter in the belief that spirits of the woods and streams would take refuge among them and be ready to bring forth new life in the spring.

Then Christ came and taught the world the true meaning of good will and the early churches took over the custom from the pagan celebration and made it one of religious significance. So, down through the centuries it has found its place until today we hang greens in memory of Him in friendly gesture to everybody; adorning our houses in honor of Him who came that we might have more abundant Life and Light.

Co. History Group Hears Interesting Talk on Mill Race

The mill race was the subject of discussion at last evening's meeting of the Warren County History Group, Harold C. Putnam presenting data which he has assembled over many years of research.

He illustrated his talk by reference to a large blue print copy of an old map of Warren showing the old-time channel of the Conewago Creek and the bed of the Allegheny River, both of which were so different from today, and a period when no lots were sold in Warren on either the creek or river banks. How was title acquired for the shops and stores, along the river bank, when they were built out over the river itself? There were many mills, and the island was built up by slabwood, for they had their water-power under them. The man-made land at the end of Market street, and the filling-in of the mill race were subjects of debate.

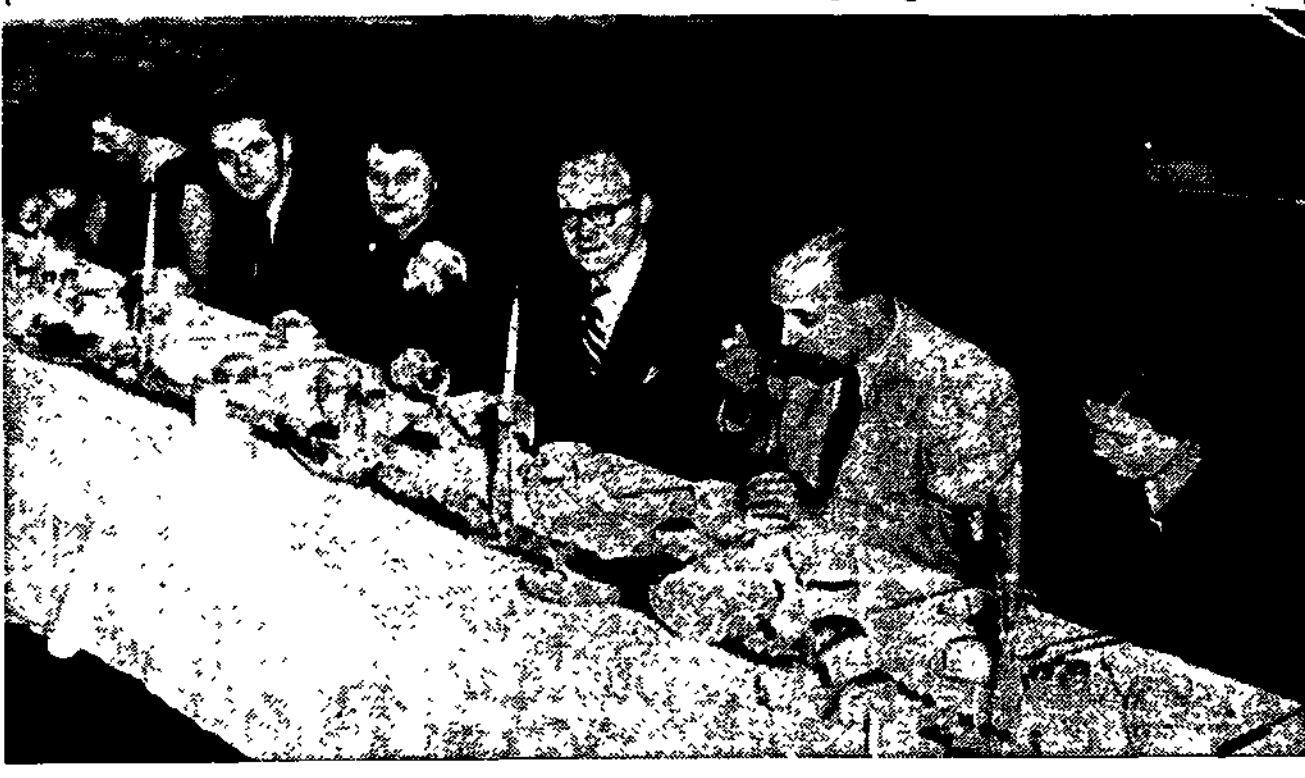

Mr. Putnam took up the topic of rafting at Russell, which was the most important point on the creek above Warren because it was there that the seven miles of rapids to Warren began. Available pilots not being plenty, during the spring rafts almost covered the creek for two miles above Russell. Going over the dam was not too dangerous, and the rafts could not sink. Rafts were seldom run at night because of the crookedness and narrowness of the creek and river here. At Warren rafts would be made up composed of units of six platforms and at Pittsburgh two or three of these units would be coupled.

In speaking of old boats, Mr. Putnam talked of flat, keel, ice, coal and other varieties, their cargoes and passengers and histories. He closed with a graphic description of Jerome Wetmore's patent of 1857 presenting a new method of propulsion in low water, a front wheeler which negotiated the rapids and shoals at great speed.

The next program meeting of the group will occur December 5, and Dr. William Cashman will talk on "The Spencer Tragedy in 1851."

It was announced Mrs. D. C. Armstrong, 116 Jackson avenue, has copies of Mrs. Lucy Cowan's book, "Revolutionary Soldiers Buried in Warren County," and will be glad to supply them to interested purchasers.

YMCA Leader Honored With "Piping-Off Dinner"

Warren's temporary loss when Jim Hengst leaves for duty aboard the USS Saipan next week was emphasized in informal talks given last night at a "Piping-Off Dinner" served in the Youth Canteen.

Tables seating over 50 persons were decorated with Navy colors. Chuck Tranter served as toastmaster of the program. The portion of the speakers' table pictured above shows, left to right, Miss Marty Sable, Mr. and Mrs. Hengst, Mr. Tranter, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koebly.

Opening with the invocation by Francis Hetrick, the dinner was followed with group singing led by Paul Mutsabaugh. Walter Whaley was the accompanist and entertained with his version of "Tea For Two."

The toastmaster then introduced the various YMCA group representatives who gave remarks. These included Allen Anderson, primus of Phalanx; Harold Hampton, "Y" Board member; Murray Cameron, camp director; Pete Fanartitis, treasurer of the Adult Fanartitis steering committee; John Stachowiak, club leader; Charles Johnson, volunteer office force worker, and Charles Koebly, boys' work committee chairman, who presented Mr. Hengst with a gift of money.

In his response Mr. Hengst presented his wife, Gladys, and praised her for the part she plays in his work and told of the enjoyment he receives in putting on his program. He also expressed his appreciation for the many leaders who have answered the call to take over the boys' department in his absence.

The farewell dinner was arranged for Jim by leaders of the boys' work committee, the Phalanx and the YMCA staff.

LETTERS TO EDITOR
Nov. 28, 1951.

Dear Editor:

There's no need to mention my name, as I might be any bike rider in Warren. I think the drivers of cars are not being at all considerate of us. We might be ten feet away from an intersection or driveway and a car will shoot out, trying to get into the street, before the other cars get there. They think "Aw, it's just a bicycle, that's nothing." Many times I'll come down Pennsylvania avenue toward town and a car will come out of Hertz street, look straight at me, and keep on going. I might have to swerve into the path of an on-coming car. (It has just been luck that I haven't been hit so far).

That's right, we're not perfect either. Many bike riders think that they own the road, but if the drivers of cars would do their part, I think we bicycle riders would do ours. Wouldn't we kids? Thank you.

A Bicycle Rider.

Chapter 23

THEY were to land at Kyles town. Mr. Peters had wired ahead for a car to meet the chartered plane so she would be driven to the hospital. Another wire had made reservations for Jan at the little country hotel nearby. She would drop off her baggage but she would go on to the hospital without wasting any precious minutes.

This last part of the trip, these last minutes, lasted interminably, it seemed. She was consumed with a feverish impatience; her whole body was trembling; her knees actually knocked together and the palms of her hands were damp.

But at last all journeys do come to an end. And Jan found herself, her heart hammering painfully, not only on solid ground once more, but deposited before the small hospital. Within another few minutes she would be with Ray.

"If you'll sit down, please," the woman at the desk in the small waiting room of the hospital nodded pleasantly. "I'll find out who can see Mr. Richmond."

If she could see him? Why, she had to see him, after coming all this distance in such haste! Didn't this woman know that each added second of waiting, of suspense, was an eternity?

But no doubt she was used to having people with anxious eyes and stunted smiles come to her desk. Her manner was pleasant but absolutely impersonal. Now she was talking with someone over the phone while Jan waited, her knees still knocking together.

Eternities come to an end too. A stiffly starched nurse came swishing into the room. She looked around brightly, came over to Jan. "You must be Miss Lawrence," she said. "Will you come with me, please?"

Jan nodded mutely. She was surprised to find that her knees would hold her. She walked down a long silent hall, smelling strongly of some disinfectant, to the elevator. It was one of those cages that go up and down by pushing a button. The nurse pushed one and they shot upward, although Jan's heart and stomach, seemed to shoot downward.

"We have been expecting you," the nurse remarked in her professionally impersonal tone.

"You have?" Jan's heart bounded up once more as the elevator drew to a stop. Then maybe Ray had been asking for her.

"We received Mr. Peters' wire," the nurse explained.

Jan's heart sank halfway back to where it belonged. Mr. Peters had not forgotten a thing. She wondered now if Ray had been told about the wire, but she did not ask. She was trying to keep up with the nurse's swishing skirts, leading the way down another long narrow corridor. At the end of it she paused before a closed door.

"I feel I must warn you," she said, "not to excite your patient. He has been a very sick young man, as you know."

Jan nodded. "I'll be very careful," she promised.

The nurse was opening the door. She held it for Jan to pass through. Jan gathered all her courage. She knew that she must expect Ray to look different from the way he had. She must be prepared for this change in him.

And she must remember the nurse's warning, not to excite him at any cost.

There Ray was, lying in the white bed in the small white room. His head was swathed in a white bandage, his face against white pillows had lost that warm golden tan so that it was white too; only his eyes, looking much too big, still that incredible sky-blue, looked like the Ray she had known.

Jan wanted to cry out to run to him, throw herself down beside him. It took all her self-control to walk unshakingly over to that narrow high hospital bed, to say in a matter-of-fact quiet tone, "Hello there, Ray."

There was someone else in the room. Jan had not noticed this at first. All her attention had been riveted on Ray, centered on the bed, but now she saw that someone was sitting quietly near the window. The someone was Bernice Darrow.

Ray said, "Hello yourself, Jan. A faint smile flickered across his mouth. It was reflected in his blue eyes. But that was all said.

Bernice, rising from the chair, stepped up to hold out slender hand.

"We're so glad you came, Jan," she said. Her smile was warm and welcoming.

Jan knew that she should return it, should take the other girl's hand, but she could not force herself to do so. "I didn't know that you were here," she replied stiffly.

"I have been here all the time," Bernice answered quietly. Her eyes, meeting Jan's seemed to say, I have as much right as you to be here with Ray.

"That's what Ray's voice told me," Bernice said. "You've forgotten that I'm here."

Both girls went over to him, one to stand on either side of the bed.

His eyes, his face, turned from one to the other. He said, "That's what I've been wanting to know. I've been waiting for you."

Jan knew what he meant. He meant that he had wanted the three of them together—the two girls at his side, as friends.

"Now," Ray was saying, with that faint smile hovering on his mouth, "I know I'll get well."

"Of course you will," Bernice let one of her hands rest lightly on his shoulder. "That's what we're here, isn't it, Jan?" Her violet eyes met Jan's once more. "The narrow high bed. We're here to do everything we possibly can to help you get well."

And Jan knew what the other girl meant. That they must stand together, wait together, work together toward that end. "That's good," Ray said. "I closed his eyes. He was well satisfied. It was evident that the much excitement had been enough for him.

Jan turned her head away, biting her lips to keep back the tears.

on scouting missions as usual, but with the understanding they would not look for trouble.

The change came on the same front where reports of a new "don't shoot first" policy originated.

Van Fleet's statement did not say what directives the original Eighth Army order contained. Nor did he say that troops would be ordered to resume full scale fighting along the quiet 145-mile front.

Official quarters, ranging up to the White House, denied issuing any cease-fire order.

A cease-fire must wait until an armistice agreement is signed by truce negotiators meeting at Panmunjom. Thursday the Red delegation proposed immediate discussion of gradual withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea, instead of the Allied guarantee against reinforcements during a truce.

President Truman's spokesman in Key West, Fla., denied an AP report that such orders had come possibly from the White House.

AP Correspondent Milo Farneti on the western front said he saw an Eighth Army order not to fire unless fired upon.

Van Fleet's statement was the first acknowledgement that there had been any order that could be so interpreted, even through "distortion of meaning," as the general labeled it.

Since the discussions began the Reds have insisted on withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea—a step the Allies contend is a political matter which should be debated at a formal peace conference after the armistice is in effect.

Lt. Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist negotiator, injected the new Red proposal with a hypothetical question at Thursday's session in Panmunjom. He asked whether the U. N. command would discuss the gradual withdrawal of foreign troops under the third item of the conference agenda.

The Communists made a similar proposal when the truce talks opened last July, but backed down in the face of adamant Allied opposition.

Syria Strong Man With Aid of Th Army Takes Control

Cairo, Nov. 29.—(P)—Syria's strong man—Col. Adib Shishakly—threw out of office today a newly appointed premier who had urged closer ties between the Arab nations and Russia. The Syrian army seized control of the entire country.

Radio Damascus said Maro Dawalibi, a Populist party leader who had been named premier on last night, and all members of his cabinet, were placed under arrest. A broadcast statement from Shishakly charged the Populists with seeking to "undermine the country's independence, break the army and create a new throne in Syria."

Dispatches from Damascus said the country was quiet. Apparently the army moved in swiftly and took control before any violence could get started.

Shishakly, who has led the last three coups in Syria, accused the Populists of trying to "arouse the people against the army and create new difficulties at a time when the country is facing important problems, especially in foreign policy."

This was an apparent reference to the major foreign policy problem facing the Arab states—whether to join in the Middle East Defense Command and proposed by the western powers. Egypt has refused to participate.

Shishakly is believed to harbor no special bitterness against the west and to have little sympathy for the Soviet bloc.

Retail Prices of Most Pork Items, Eggs And Some Fresh Vegetables Easing Off

By The Associated Press
Retail prices of most pork items, eggs and several fresh vegetables eased this week. Butter climbed one to six cents a pound in many places, reflecting a tighter supply situation. Consumer food buying generally was reported slow following the Thanksgiving feast shopping last week. "The budget-anxious housewives are digging in for awhile after the big spurge, and you'll find a lot of price-trimming on the more moderate-priced items in stores as a result," said one big chain's sales manager. Pork was high on the lists of advertised specials planned for the coming weekend by major independents and store chains. Pork loins were the cheapest of the season in some places. Other stores featured smoked butts and hams. The agriculture department headlined pork (and apples) as most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying this week. Top grade eggs were off two to four cents a dozen in most stores after weeks of working higher. Market analysts said eggs might ease a little more in the next couple of weeks before heading upward again shortly before Christmas. Most beef items were unchanged this week, although prime rib roasts fell back as much as eight or nine cents a pound in a few places to sell at about the same level as choice grade cuts. This was attributed partly to temporary heavy supplies, partly to the competition being waged by pork. Poultry prices were mostly steady, with only a few scattered and minor reductions in chicken fryers and broilers. Slow demand rather than any significant change in supplies was responsible for small declines in several fresh produce items, including snap beans, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, sweet potatoes and grapefruit. Lettuce was being offered in a wide quality range, with the bulk of it only fair. Among the weekend shopping specials being offered by major chains were: Canned soups and corned beef hash, baked beans, oranges, grapefruit, fresh broccoli, grape jam and pineapple juice. Oranges, raisins and turkeys top the agriculture department's national list of plentiful for the month of December. The list is compiled to help promote consumption of foods in heavy supply and usually comparatively low-priced. Others on the list: Apples, canned and frozen concentrated orange

Veritable Army of Deer Hunters Due to Descend Upon Coun

Nimrods 'Anxiously Awaiting Opening of Season Monday At Nine O'Clock In Morning

With a veritable army of deer hunters due to descend upon Warren county, Sunday, in readiness for the opening of buck season on Monday, smoke will be whirling from hundreds of hunting camp chimneys and the enticing smell of sizzling bacon will permeate the woodlands shortly after dawn on the first day.

The 1951 season will open at 9 a. m., Monday, when male deer with two or more points to one antler become legal game. The last day of the season is Thursday, December 13. On all days except the opening day, hunting hours will be 7 a. m. until 5 p. m.

There should be a good harvest of deer this year as they are reported to be as plentiful as last year throughout the hunting sections of Pennsylvania. With many young men in the armed services and with business activity at a high level, the ranks of the hunters are expected to be somewhat depleted.

Many reservations for part of the hunting season or its entirety have been made in Warren homes and farm homes throughout the county where hunters are accommodated each year. Many cottages up and down the Conewango and the Allegheny have been rented for the duration of the season.

The several Warren restaurants which normally serve an early breakfast are expecting their seasonal rush and at least two other restaurants and one diner have changed their opening hours so as to feed the hunters and have them on their way before 7 a. m. after opening day.

When five or more persons hunt together or in any way cooperate in hunting deer the usual big game roster is still required.

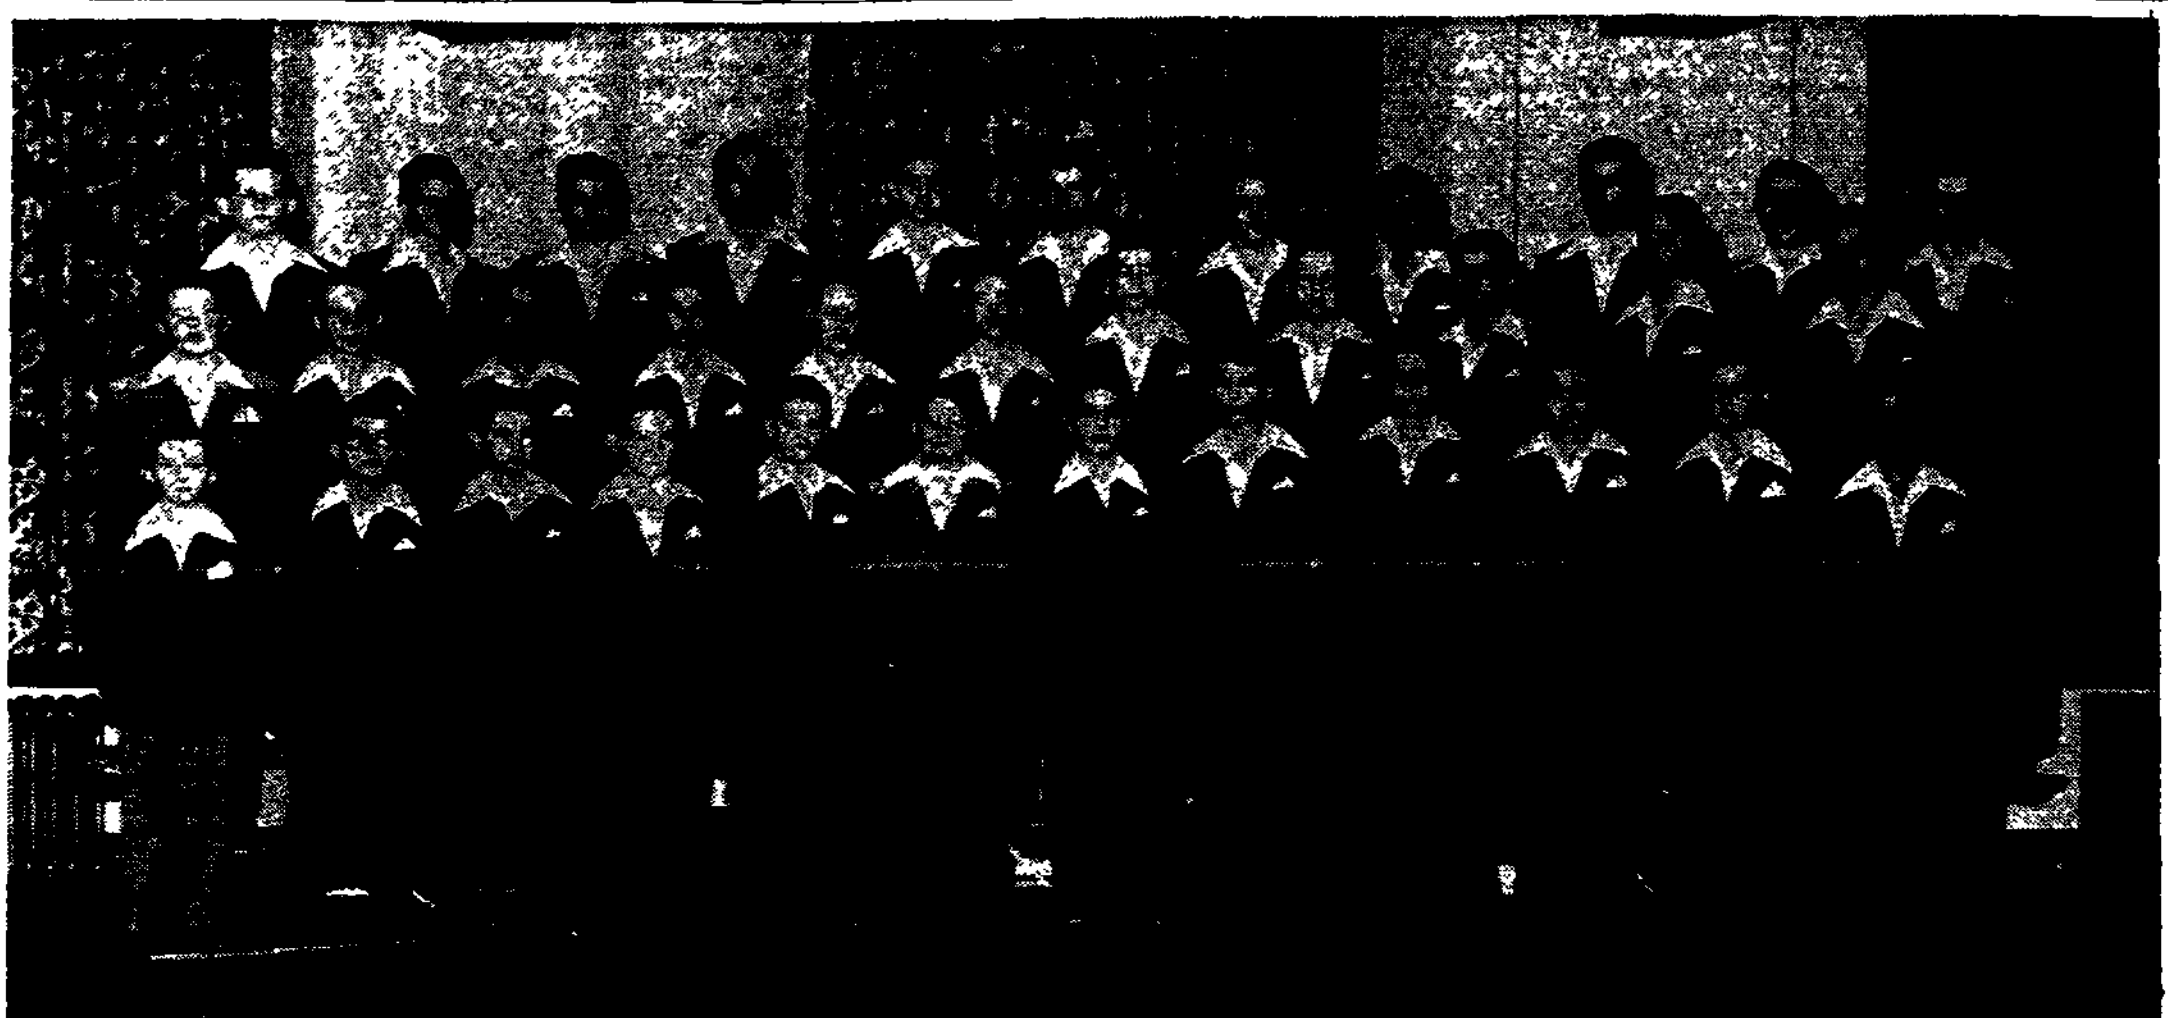

All automatic or semi-automatic (auto-loading) firearms of any character are strictly prohibited in the taking of deer in Pennsylvania. Pump shot guns and the double and single barrel varieties, firing punkin balls or rifled slugs are allowed. The pump gun may be loaded to capacity in hunting deer.

Archers who possess a 1951 "regular" hunting license may hunt deer during the coming season without an archery license. Bow and arrow hunters who bought a special license and archery preserve permit for the October 15-27 deer season may hunt bucks in the special archery preserves located in Forest and Sullivan counties in the December 3-13 antlerless deer season. However, archers must own an antlerless deer license for the specific county in which they hunt to seek antlerless deer during the December 14-15 antlerless season whether on one of these preserves or in any Pennsylvania county.

A Legislative Act passed last summer reads:

"Any individual may possess, transport, carry or convey an unmarked part of a big game carcass that has been cut up, but such person shall, upon request of any law enforcement officer, furnish the name and address of the person killing the big game animal and any other information required to properly establish legal possession in such person."

ASSISTING IN OBSEQUIES for the Elks' Annual Lodge of Sorrow, to be held in the club auditorium at 3 p. m. Sunday, will be the Warren Boys' Choir, pictured above. The choir will open its part of the service by singing "O Bone Jesu," and following the impressive Roll Call, will render the spiritual, "Steal Away to Jesus". The choir's concluding selection will be Bach's "Now Let All the Heavens Adore Thee." The choir will be led by its director, Byron Swanson. (Photo by Louis Lind).

Weld Forms Cub Pack, Is First Boy Scout to Win Organizer Award

Weld is the first Boy Scout to win the Organizer Award from the PTA. The award is bestowed on an individual who is responsible for the organization of a Scout pack in a membership of eight boys.

Weld helped to organize Pack 46, sponsored by the Pleasant PTA. According to the PTA, Weld had a long, hard time completing this undertaking. The most difficult problem was getting the parents of the boys, and 10 years old, that would play a part in the Cub Scout Program. Ted talked with these young lads at lunch hour, between classes, and on the bus back from home to school for six months before the parents were aroused enough to begin to ask questions. Finally, a meeting was arranged with a study committee appointed by the PTA and the undertaking was well on the road to success. Perseverance won out and last summer a series of group meetings of the parents was held so that all might learn the program of Cub Scouting.

As a result of this spadework, a Cub Pack of 21 boys was chartered. The adult leaders agreeing to help in this parent-son program included Kenneth Cole as institutional representative; Frank Valone as committee chairman; and the following committee members: Frank D. Alexander, James Jamieson, Louis Highhouse, James Highhouse, Glenn Haight, Edward Lindsey and Richard Ruhlman.

The Cubmaster is Gerald P. Ruhlman and Bill Gnage is his assistant. Mothers serving as Den Mothers include Mrs. Gerald Ruhlman, Mrs. Betty Ruhlman, Mrs. Jane Kittelinger, and Mrs. Evelyn Genberg.

Teddy Weld has been a Cub Scout for three years, and a Boy

TEDDY WELD

Scout for two. At present he attends Beatty Junior High School and is a Second Class Scout. He is also serving as a Den Chief in Pack 46.

Clinton's Leidy Gas Field Proving Bonanza for Owners And Big Assist to Utilities

By WILLIAM G. SMOCK
Pittsburgh—A backyard bonanza is padding Pennsylvania's slim natural gas supplies and easing pressure on local utilities which find it hard to meet the urgent demands of this highly industrialized, populous area.

The bonanza is Clinton county's Leidy natural gas field in central Pennsylvania. Because it is located near the big markets, gas companies are paying a price for Leidy gas which is high enough to pour a shower of gold into the pockets of producers.

The price at the well head for Leidy gas is around 25 cents per thousand cubic feet. In Texas, where supplies are ample and markets scarcer, gas brings a much lower price. In a new field near Marshall, Tex., for example, the well head price has been fixed at 10 cents per thousand cubic feet.

A spokesman for Peoples Natural Gas Co. in Pittsburgh said the Leidy price is simply the going rate for gas produced in the area. He said it was negotiated between buyer and seller and based on the law of supply and demand. There is no price regulation by any state or federal governmental agency. Peoples said it pays 21.5 cents per cubic thousand feet for the gas it buys in western Pennsylvania.

"It's just a case of the owners asking so much and the buyers being willing to pay that much," he declared. "Naturally, the local gas companies can afford to pay more for gas available close at hand where transmission costs are low. They can't afford to pay as much for gas produced in Texas. The transmission costs add too much."

Leidy gas is being purchased by a sister company of Peoples, the New York State Natural Gas Corp., a wholesaling outfit which sells gas to many utility companies in Pennsylvania and New York State.

Peoples and New York State Natural Gas are part of the Consolidated Natural Gas Co. of New York City. Gas which New York State Natural Gas buys in the Leidy field is shipped in a big pipeline system which runs so close to the Leidy field that only minor connection facilities had to be constructed when the field came in.

Another major purchaser of Leidy gas is Manufacturers Light and Heat Co., Pittsburgh. That company recently completed a $9,000,000 pipe line to bring gas from Clinton county to Pittsburgh. The new pipe line is expected to help relieve gas shortages which have plagued local industries during cold weather ever since the defense boom first gathered momentum in World War II.

Another western Pennsylvania gas company buying in the Leidy field is the United Natural Gas Co. of Oil City, some 80 miles north of Pittsburgh in the heart of the Pennsylvania grade crude oil field.

The bigger gas companies have drilled some wells of their own in the Leidy field to supplement their purchases. The system with which Peoples is affiliated has about a dozen wells in operation and is drilling 15 others.

S. H. Cathcart, chief state geologist, said demands on gas wells in the two-year-old field are so great the wells may be exhausted within a few years. He added: "Most of them may be exhausted within five years but the end may not come suddenly. New areas in the field may be developed and the field may continue on a diminished scale for years."

The demand is great, he explained, because Pennsylvania produces only about 40 per cent of the natural gas it uses. Huge quantities come from the mammoth Texas fields.

The Leidy field boasts some 55 wells at last count. Sixty-six wells were being drilled at the time of the state's latest compilation. Cathcart put the average drilling cost at between $60,000 and $70,000 a well.

The geologist predicted the field has a capacity of 50 billion feet—and maybe more. The daily production yield is about 160 million cubic feet a day.

Production is not regulated by the state. The Public Utility Commission of Pennsylvania watches prices only at the level of the ultimate consumer. Prices paid by utilities to producers are matters of private contract but the price at which the utility sells gas to homes and factories must be approved by the PUC. The Office of Price Stabilization is not concerned since the Leidy price is not an advance from the price in effect in the area at the time prices were frozen.

Development of the field has changed the economy of the area. It formerly was a hunter's delight, with wooded hills and scattered, down-at-the-heel farms. Now fabulous stories are told of landowners suddenly enriched by royalties amounting to one-eighth the output of wells on their properties.

Seven brothers who purchased a site for a hunting cabin now have a well on the land which is expected to return $2,000 a day in royalties. A woman who had a tough time persuading her husband to buy a relative's run-down farm now realizes $1,500 from the property.

MENU SUGGESTIONS

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

LOUIS DIAT, rated as one of the world's great chefs, for many years chef of the Ritz-Carlton in New York, has written "Sauces, French and Famous" for the American housewife. In it, he has turned the complicated formulas of the highest French cuisine into simple recipes any good cook can follow.

"A fine sauce will make fish welcome," he says. "The right sauce will make leftover meat taste delicious and different," he promises.

The following are from "Sauces, French and Famous."

Lyonnaise Sauce
(for meat, especially leftover meat like boiled beef and for vegetables)

Two tablespoons butter, 2 finely chopped onions, 1 glass (3 ounces) white wine (or 2 tablespoons vinegar), 1 cup brown sauce, 1 teaspoon chopped parsley.

Melt butter in a saucepan, add onions and cook until golden brown. Add wine and cook until reduced to about one-half the original quantity (or add vinegar). Add brown sauce and cook slowly 15 minutes. Add parsley.

Piquante Sauce
(for tongue or any bland meat and for reheating leftover meat)

One finely chopped onion, 1/4 cup vinegar, 1/2 cups strained, canned tomatoes, 1/4 teaspoon salt, a little pepper, 1 teaspoon flour, 2 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons finely chopped sour pickles, 1 teaspoon chopped parsley.

Put onion and vinegar in a saucepan and cook slowly until reduced to almost nothing. Add tomatoes, salt and pepper and cook slowly about 10 minutes. Cream together flour and butter and add, stirring it in until butter is melted and sauce thickened. Add pickles and parsley.

National Teacher Tests To Be Held February 16

Prospective teachers in this area will have an opportunity to take the national teacher examinations, February 16, 1957, according to Dr. John C. Hoshauer of Edinboro State Teachers' College, who will supervise administration of the tests. Application blanks and a bulletin of information describing registration procedures and containing sample test questions may be obtained from Dr. Hoshauer. Applications must be mailed so as to be received not later than January 18, 1957. Dr. Hoshauer advised.

Scores on the national teacher examinations are used by a large number of school systems and teacher education institutions throughout the country as an aid in evaluating such of the qualifications of prospective teachers as are measured by the tests, Dr. Hoshauer said.

At the one-day testing session, a candidate may take the common examinations which include tests in professional information, general culture, English expression, and non-verbal reasoning. In addition, each candidate may take one or two optional examinations which are designed to demonstrate mastery of subject matter in the fields in which the candidate is prepared.

AP'S ALL-STATE SQUAD NAMES 22 OFFENSIVE AND DEFENSIVE

Bucknell Dominates With Four High School Girls' Selections; Penn State Two; Ted Shattuck on Second Team Intra-mural Crown Won by Sophomores

Ted Shattuck of Warren, who played consistently good football for Penn State during the season currently ending, was named today on the Associated Press' All-Pennsylvania college second team.

From Young to Young, the 1951 first team covers a weight spread of 85 pounds. The first and second teams, offense and defense, were chosen after consultation among the coaches and sports writers.

For the first time in history, the All-State squad as it is named today, lists 22 players, 11 on offense and 11 on defense, and, oddly enough, the big man and the little man both answer to the name of Young.

The big guy is George Young, 245-pound giant on Bucknell University's undefeated team, a solid choice for defensive tackle. And the little guy is Rich (Dodger) Young, 160-pounder of unbeaten Susquehanna, a sort of junior Kazmaier.

Rich Young is teamed in the offensive backfield with Bucknell's touchdown twins, Burt Talmage and Brad Myers, and Villanova's heavy-duty fullback, Bob Haner.

A fourth Bucknell player, Bob Albert, was placed in the defensive backfield along with Jack Sudol.

Following are the selections of the Associated Press for the double elevens and for the second team:

Jack Smith, physical director at Bradford YMCA, has written us to tell of a Regional Basketball Tournament to be held at the Bradford "Y" on Tuesday, January 1, with games starting at 1 p. m. Winners of the afternoon games will play in the evening, with the play-offs being the next evening at 7:15 and 8:15. He says it is a single elimination tournament with the winners being regional champs. An entry fee of $10 will be charged each team, with trophies offered for first and second place. Any team interested may secure an entry blank by writing Jack Smith.

Carnegie Tech has named Mike Theodore of Wilmerding, to succeed Sgt. Ellwood Brown as freshman basketball coach.

Quite a nice little publication is "The Occasional," of which our good friend, Joe Gardner, is editor. This month's issue, all done in red and green, could be classed as a thing of beauty and a joy forever. It even has bright red Christmas bells, a-ringing on the front page, and actually has the appearance of a Christmas card.

Erie Dispatch-Golden Gloves boxing tournament officials anticipate over 100 entries for matches starting January 5. Eleven hopefuls have already signed up and reports from around the area indicate participants from Corry, Meadville, Ridgway, Smethport, Kane and Warren.

What two borough employees are forecasting wedding bells with the sparkler a third-grade teacher is wearing on her left-third?

We beg your pardon. Wiggers Chevrolet of Youngville had only two definite in Y. City teams.

practice games, not three as we stated in Monday's paper. The out-of-towners managed a slim 38-36 triumph over Atlantic for their single win.

Dragon Squad Near Pre-Game Strength Try-Outs Continue

Coach Joe Massa reported this morning that he now has an 11-man 'varsity' squad of seven seniors and four juniors picked and is concentrating on selecting his starting five for the Dragons' opener against Tidioute, December 4.

The Warren squad is going through regular drills and is shaping up nicely, although still green because of lack of experience. There isn't a single returning letterman to work around, last season's even dozen being all seniors.

The 'varsity' squad is made up of Larry Anderson, Jon Pearson, Bernie Gray, Rickey Scalise, Ben Pastrick, Dave Berdine, Bob Ebach, all seniors, and Carl Falvo, Bob Harrington, Dick Hartnett, Ron Isaacson, the junior members.

There is the possibility, however, that Anderson might be forced to drop from the team because of a bad ankle.

On the Jayvees are Jerry Leonard, Don Smith, Ron Wood and Dick Lundahl, junior material, and sophomores Jerry Gordon, Gary Ettinger, Bruce Duell, Bob Koebly, Bill Erickson and Don Dick.

Coach Massa said today that the junior 'varsity' men will still have the chance to advance to first string if they show ability once the season gets under way.

Two Good Games In City League Tonight

With an overwhelming 60-29 over Warren Business School under their belts, Texas Lunch courtmen will turn on Paul's Atlantic for their second victory in the YMCA-City loop at 7 o'clock tonight.

In the 8 o'clock contest Wiggers Chevrolet of Youngville, will open with its first game against WBS.

Texas Lunch has a fine chance of trimming the Atlantic five, having already cleaned them 74-37 in a practice game and possess more scoring material. The Schoolboys are a slight favorite in the second contest and should be able to pick up their first win for a 1-1 record.

Panthers Resume Drills For Orange Bowl Game

Coach Tom Hamilton took things easy yesterday as the athletes resumed work but will step up the pace today.

Grade School Loop Gives Younger Lad His Chance to Play

Like the Juniors, the younger cagemen will hold games at the "Y" Saturday afternoons, the first game starting at 12 o'clock and the second at 1:30. League action will get underway this Saturday with 19 scheduled games and three playoff dates.

Crowd Goes Mad As Bratton Wins Draw In Gavilan Battle

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Johnny Bratton, Chicago's unpredictable welterweight, charmed a Chicago Stadium crowd last night with a piledriving assault that earned him a draw with champion Kid Gavilan.

The end of the non-title 10-round bout, which was televised across the nation, found the 7,897 spectators on their feet, cheering the unpredictable "Brat" lustily.

Then, when the verdict was announced—the referee for Bratton, one judge for Gavilan, the other calling it a standoff—the crowd cheered even wilder.

Bratton went into the bout scaling an over-the-limit 149 pounds, as did Gavilan, the Cuban kid. Bratton was a 3-1 underdog.

Supporters worried lest Bratton prove ring-shy after suffering jaw bone breaks in three losing battles—to Gavilan last May, to Ike Williams in 1950 and to Beau Jack in 1949. Furthermore, the Brat was known to have a habit of going on the defensive when the going was toughest.

But tactically Bratton was a changed man last night. Ringside observers were agreed the Brat fought the most impressive battle of his major competition.

Bratton bled throughout the fight, with Gavilan's punishing swings opening the wounds periodically. But the Brat, who held the 147-pound title for 65 days before dropping it to Gavilan last May 18, held his own.

It was Bratton's finish in the last two rounds that gave him a draw. In both rounds Gavilan tried for an early kill, falling blisteringly at the Brat, but both times Bratton clearly outboxed the champion.

The gross receipts were $27,135, and the net $20,875, plus the TV-radio pool.

Indiana Coach Says He Quit Job on Principle

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 29.—(P)—Clyde E. Smith said today he quit as Indiana University's head football coach because of principle, not pressure, and that the time has come for all coaches to "stand up and be counted."

The stocky, mid-mannered coach declared he resigned because he disagrees in principle with the modern conduct of college athletics, not because of alumni criticism during a losing season.

Eddie Stanky Will Succeed Marion As Manager of Cards

New York, Nov. 29.—Eddie Stanky virtually is certain of succeeding Marty Marion as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

No definite agreement has been reached as yet, but presidents Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants and Fred M. Saigh of the Cardinals, will meet within the next few days with the hope of closing the deal, brewing since the World Series.

The transaction may not be announced until the Minor League convention in Columbus next week.

The Cards will be asked to turn over pitcher Max Lanier and outfielder Chuck Diering for Stanky, who will then sign as a player-manager with the Redbirds for a two-year contract at $35,000 per season.

Although Saigh has been quoted as saying that he had three men in mind for the job, he has not seriously considered anybody other than Stanky.

It was only a question whether Stoneham was willing to part with the Giants' scrappy second baseman, admittedly the inspirational spark who drove the team to the National League flag last season.

Stoneham is loathe to lose the brainy "quarterback" of his infield, but is agreeable to the transaction only because he does not want to be accused of "blocking Stanky's chance of realizing his dream"—managing a big league club.

Blalk Will Dep On Quarterback Upset the Mid

By ORLO ROBERTS

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 29.—(P)—Army will go into today's annual football game against Navy at Philadelphia only one player that Coach Blaik believes would have outside chance of breaking Middles' starting lineup.

That young man is Fred Meyers, 19-year old quar from Enid, Okla. Army's of upsetting the experience dies depend largely on his pitching arm and his leg also does the punting and a tight fair country runner.

Blaik today called Meyers tially a first rate operat lacking the experience of the quarterbacks—Bob Zastor Mike Sorrentino. The National calla both are seniors.

Actually, Meyers is not "T" formation quarterback would be much more effective a single wing or even at in the "T" but he was the Blaik had left after the scandal wrecked the Army's.

Although he has seen full offensive action in only two against Villanova and The Meyers' record shows he has pleted 18 of 45 passes for yards and one touchdown.

He also has scored two downs rushing and caught passes. He's the best receiver on the team. And his ing has been more than ad.

The six-foot, 178-pound, was injured in the first six of the Army's second game at Northwestern and he new turned to full time service two weeks ago against The del.

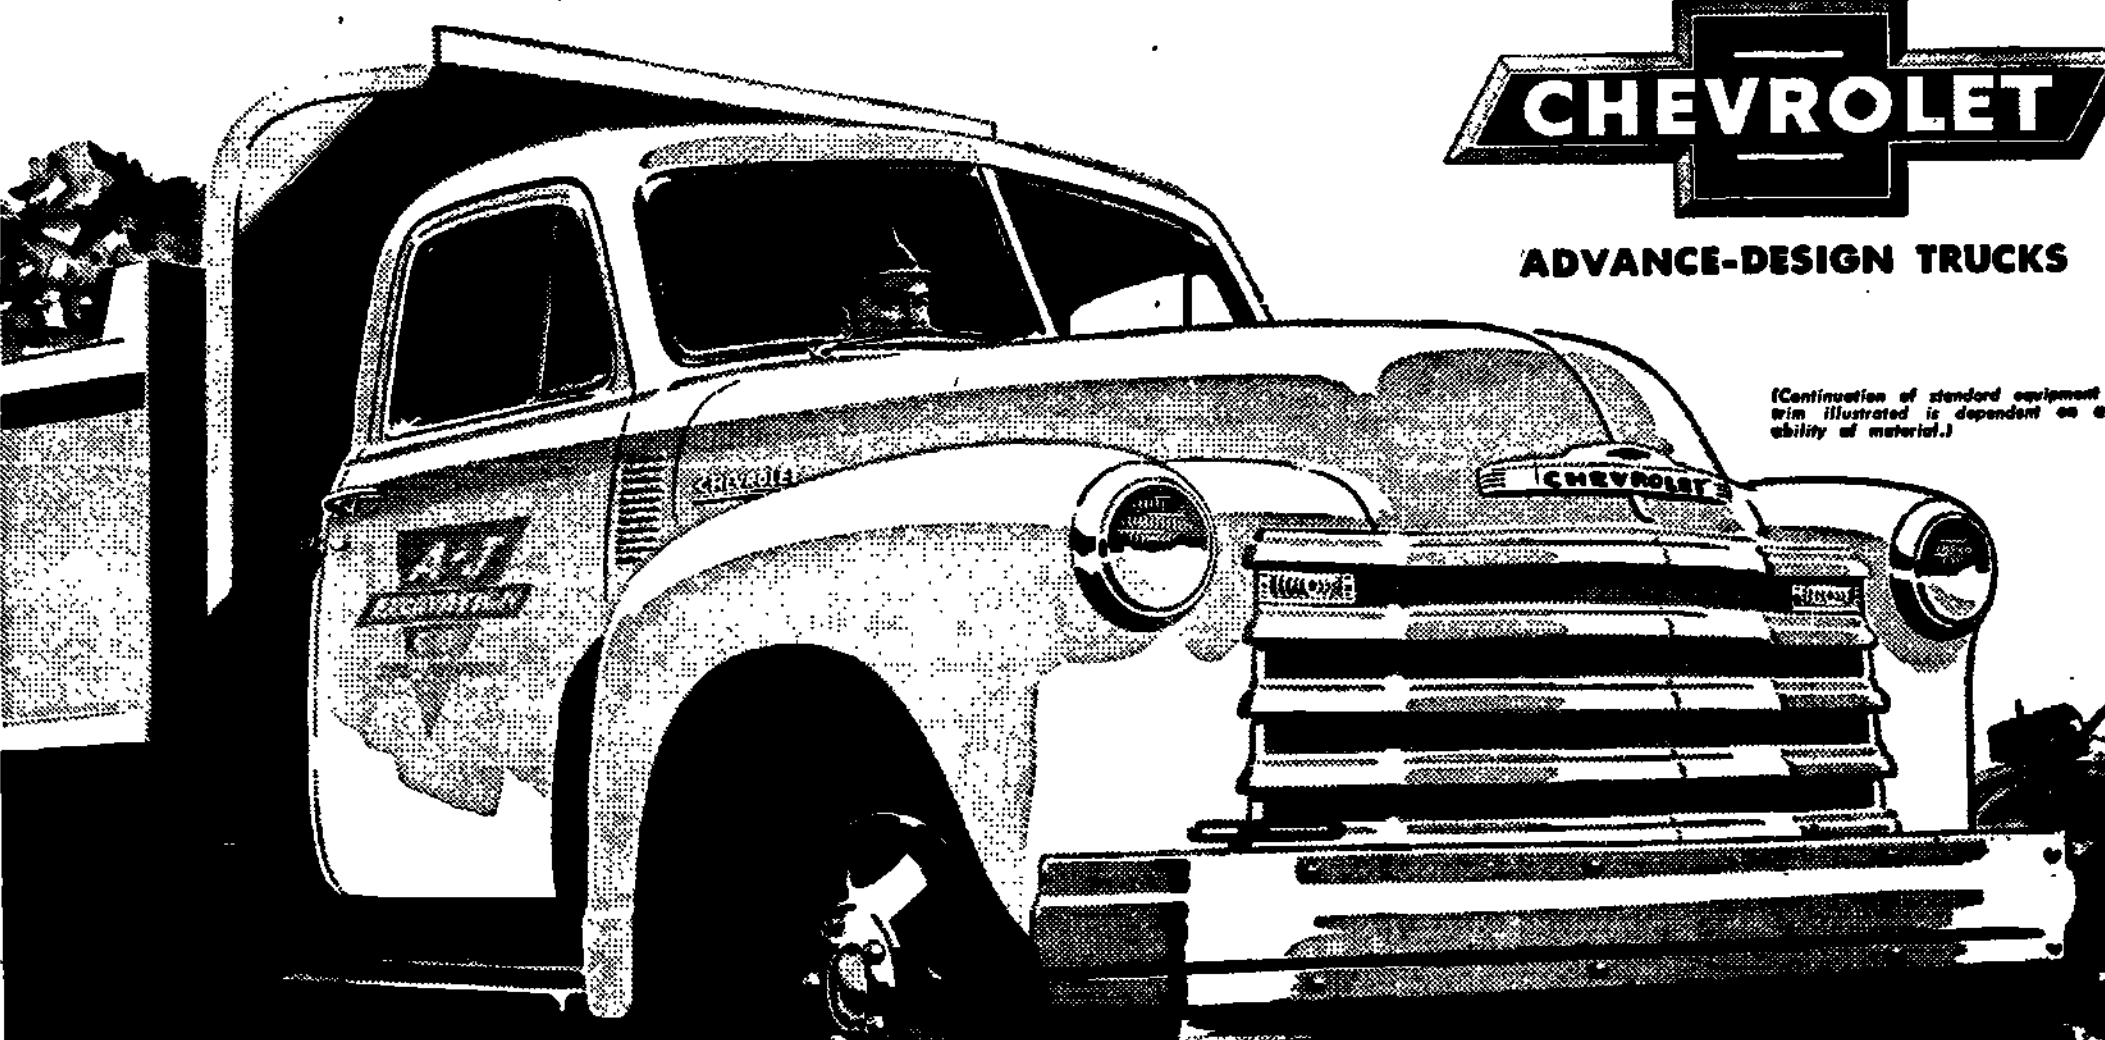

There have been reports Blaik might shift to a single or spread formations in or make more effective use of ers' abilities.

And yesterday Blaik was to dig into the junior vars and a couple of tackle rements. He brought up a of 213 pounds in Howard of Pittsburgh, and John of Millvale, Pa.
